FINAL REJECTION

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities:

1. Incorrect labeling of reference numerals is found on page 9, line 17-18, it is suggested to change numeral 138 to 139, change numeral 138' to 139' and further delete the numeral 138 after 137'

Appropriate correction is required.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

1. Claim 21 is rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 1 of U.S. Patent No. 6,941,782 B2 in view of Brauchler (U.S. Patent # 2,513,710). The patented and the pending claims set forth the same invention of substantially the same scope except the invention of patented claim 1 lacks a third punch moveable along a second axis. However, Brauchler discloses the use of multiple punches [first, second, third and fourth] (plungers 71 with piercing portions 71a) that are individually moveable by hydraulic cylinders (26) and pistons (33) (See col. 5, line 64), in addition the hydraulic cylinders (26), pistons (33) and punches (plungers 71 with piercing portions 71a) are independently circumferentially adjustable to any desired or necessary position within a complete circle (See col. 4, line 50) thereby allowing the punches to be arranged in a confronting manner (common axis) or angularly offset manner from one another (second axis). In view of Brauchler (U.S. Patent # 2,513,710), it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the patented cold forging apparatus of claim 1 by providing a third punch movable along a second axis.
